Culiacan. Not a garden spot. Actually it is a garden spot and was the reason for the trip - farming.

The workers pumping the fuel were very adamant that we consider this $2.27 Jet so I am sure it was some fuel they had "built up" to sell on the side. We were guests of a guy who put us in a big fat hangar with a lot of big iron.

But even in MMPE we pumped 332L for $4.22 / G which wasn't too bad.
Was all I could take to stay within limits on the short flight to OLS.
